PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Another variant of bulkhead salvaged from Fawley Power Station, a brutalist landmark building on the gateway of The Solent.

These large 1970's beauties lined the tunnels leading from the vast turbine hall.

Cast-aluminium with a thick prismatic glass lens.

We've repainted these in matt black.

The decommissioned Fawley site has featured in a host of movies, including Star Wars and Mission Impossible, for more info please click here.

Small run available.
